Summary: A Poem dedicated to dear old Professor Severus Snape, Potions Master, teacher and double agent, the most enigmatic character in the Harry Potter books, a dark hero who died far too young. Hated and loved, he leaves no one untouched. Disclaimer: All things Harry Potter belong to J.K. Rowling.

You

You

Hated

Loved

No one could pass you by

Indifferent you no one leaved

No one could help but to be affected

by your life

Your time was brief

Full of grief

But great courage lied

hidden deep inside

The bravest of hearts

A great enigma

to the very end

No one could you comprehend

Not grasp your mind

where your secrets lied

Not until the day you died

End
